HILO SAW HER FIRST.

The steamship Honolulu, the fine new passenger and freight steamship built by the American-Hawaiian company, and now under charter to the Matson people, paid her first call at Hilo last week, and was much admired by all who saw her. She sailed for Honolulu yesterday afternoon. The Honolulu's dimensions are: Length over all, 428.2 feet, and 53.6 feet molded beam, with a draft of 27 feet, when fully loaded with 8600 tons of cargo. The equipment for the handling of freight is up to date in every particular. The quarters for the passengers, officers and crew are in steel houses located above the shelter deck and in the after upper between decks. The dining saloon is in the forward end of the shelter deck house and is finished in quartered oak, with paneled ceilings.

AT THE THEATERS

LA MARILYNN

Such a show as that now being put on at the Bijou by the Columbians would command twenty-five and fifty cents admissions, at least, in many of our greater cities. But for the small amount of ten, fifteen or twenty-five cents the whole admirable business may be viewed at the Bijou. Ten-year-old Marilyn's Paragay dance is exquisite, if anything ever was good, and she appears in nearly everything else presented by the Columbians. This remarkable young lady has so endeared herself to the hearts of the populace that it is impossible to see her too many times. Claire and Ruth Miller are elegant in a fascinating scene in which the lights play freakishly and the stage setting is such as to make you sit up and take notice. Then there is the Indian scene, in which Marilynn and her accomplished sisters, mother and father, all appear. One of the attractions is where Caro Miller sings some catchy lines and gets the audience on the jump with pleasure.
Lew Pistel and Tom Heath, comedian and singer, respectively, do immense stunts.

THE SAVOY TEAM

IS EXTRAORDINARY Jourdan and Gervaise compose an extraordinary team at the Savoy theater. They are both singers of first rate style and, in splendid costumes, backed by unusually good scenery, they present operatic perfections which thrill and delight. Jourdan is possessed of an imposing stage presence and the charming Gervaise is an attraction visually, musically and the-atrically.

PICCANINNIES AT

MATINEE TODAY
Regina Reed and her two wee Piccaninnies will show at the Empire at the matinee at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, and again this evening. They have drawn great attention and their ginger and snap, or ginger-snap performance, is a tremendous addition to the moving pictures and other attractions at the Empire.

NATION'S TRIBUTE TO LINCOLN.

Baltimore Sun—It seems almost unaccountable that the federal government has waited for forty-six years before providing for the erection of a fitting memorial to the President who guided its fortunes through the civil war. But when we recall that there is in Washington no monument to Thomas Jefferson, it is apparent that Lincoln is not the only great American who has suffered from such delay.
In the case of Mr. Lincoln, we can not complain that he has been neglected, for no American save Washington has ever received such close study, such warm appreciation, and no man in a single generation has been given such a high place in the temple of fame. Perhaps the delay in erecting a great permanent memorial has not been unfortunate in one respect, for it has given time for the passions and prejudices of the civil war to die out, to a large extent, and has brought about a truly national appreciation of Lincoln's character. The south has come to understand and appreciate him as it was impossible for it to do years ago.

Whether all southern people admire him unreservedly or not, the intelligent sentiment of the south recognizes that he was one of the country's truly great men; that, whatever his defects and weakness, he was a man of great intellectual strength and stature. And they can not help remembering that he was of southern blood and born on southern soil, and is one in the long list of notable men that section has contributed to the Union.

for Women and for Nervous and Female Disorders, Sleeplessness, Melancholia, etc., it acts like a charm. It removes Worms and Parasites (Hookworm, Tapeworm, Stomach and Pinworms) of all kinds from the system. Bro. Benjamin Compound HERBALO cures Constipation. In ordinary cases of Stomach, Liver, Kidney and Bladder troubles, and as a Blood Purifier, 5 to 8 bottles are sufficient. In chronic cases of long standing it generally takes more.

FOLLOW DIRECTIONS CLOSELY: Adults may take tablespoonful about one-half hour before each meal every day. If it moves the bowels too frequently, take less; if the bowels do not move enough, take more. The Bowels should move once or twice a day. For children, smaller doses, according to age, observing the same general directions as to movement of the bowels. It is well in all cases of Constipation, if there is no movement of the bowels by evening, to take an additional dose about half an hour before retiring. Observe a regular time each day for the stool, and a large glass of cold water drank each night on retiring will be found additional help to the remedy. In all cases of obstinate constipation increase the doses of the medicine until the bowels move once or twice a day. When the desired result is obtained, reduce gradually to tablespoonful doses. There is no harm in Bro. Benjamin's Compound Herbalo.
